

The Hawg Pen

January in Purgatory is usually pretty cold. Most folks are staying inside by the fire trying to stay warm. But for hog thieves it seems to be an opportune time to rustle up some cheap pork. But a few individuals are steadfast in their chores. As the thieves make their move, Hawg Runner discovers them. He takes cover and with careful aim cuts loose with his 44-40 sending mucho lead flying. The thieves decide that that pork just isn't worth it. Looks like beans again tonight.

Ammo / staging: Two pistols loaded with 5 rounds each and holstered. Rifle loaded with 10 rounds staged on the center table. 4+ shotgun rounds on person, shotgun staged on the left platform.

Start standing outside the center stall and say your line: "Eat beans!" move to table and with rifle engage rifle targets in the following order: 1-2-2-2-3-1-2-2-2-3 restage rifle on table. Move to the left stall and with 1st pistol engage pistol targets IFO: 1-2-2-2-3 re-holster and with shotgun engage two left shotgun targets. Take shotgun with you to right stall and engage two right shotgun targets then stage shotgun on the right platform. Draw 2nd pistol and engage pistol targets IFO: 1-2-2-2-3. Take all guns to the unloading table. (Rifle / Pistol / Shotgun / Pistol)
